

AP English Language Inexperienced Teachers

This workshop will introduce participants to the English Language Advanced Placement class and exam. Beginning with the end in mind, participants will first examine sample essays and multiple choice questions from released exams, and discuss methods for teaching students to become close readers and eloquent writers. Techniques for building student success will be discussed, as well as many ideas for lessons and units. Together, we will create lessons which participants will be able to use in their own classrooms.

This will be an interactive session, and all participants are asked to bring a “tried and true” lesson to share with the other participants in the workshop.
